

CAREER TALKS SERIES

Sebastian Weingart

Trainee GoGlobal Program Inhouse Consulting (Merck KGaA)

"Start your industry career with Merck's Inhouse Consulting Global Graduate Program"

Are you curious to explore how your transition from academia into starting an industry career could look like? Are you keen on mastering consulting tools and a steep learning curve? Do you want to explore all facets of a global company in your first role after completion of your PhD? Merck KGaA offers a unique trainee program in the Inhouse Consulting department, where you will meet all these expectations! Sebastian will introduce you to the Inhouse Consulting Global Graduate Program and answer all questions that you bring up. He is Biochemist by training and currently in his 2nd year of the traineeship. He has been contributing to several strategic- and operational projects with senior management executives in Merck's Healthcare, Life Science, and Performance Materials businesses.

Monday, 24 August 2020 at 17:00

The talk will take place online. Registered participants will receive the login information one day before the talk.

All are welcome to attend

Sebastian will be available also for a mentoring session

For information on the event and on registration contact us: ngc.mainz@gmail.com